CHICAGO CONVENTION

Proceedings of the First Day's Session in Detail.

VICTORY FOR THE SILVER ELEMENT

Selection of Senator Daniel for Temporary Chairman—Some Disorder and Several Amusing Incidents—First Test Vote of Free Silver Strength.

Chicago, July 8.—The first day's session of the national democratic convention was called to order in the big auditorium by Chairman Harrity at 12:50 p. m. with a gavel made from timber taken from old Fort Dearborn. The hall was densely packed and the scenes incident to the opening of a national convention were not lacking. Rev. Ernest M. Stives of Grace Episcopal church offered prayer, the delegates standing throughout. The prayer was concluded at 1:25, and after the reading of the call by the secretary of the national committee, Chairman Harrity announced the committee's selection of Senator Hill of New York for temporary chairman. The announcement was received with cheers from the gold men. The silver men kept quiet until the applause was over, and then Mr. Clayton of Alabama presented a minority report proposing Senator Daniel for temporary chairman. Mr. Clayton's motion for the adoption of the minority report was seconded by Mr. Thomas of Colorado. Mr. Clayton demanded a vote by states. There was renewed cheering at the mention of Senator Daniel's name, this time from the silver men.

Considerable Disorder.

Mr. McDermott of New Jersey was then recognized and took the platform to make a speech in favor of Senator Hill. He alluded to the Senator's motto, "I am a democrat," and urged that he be retained as temporary chairman, in the interest of justice to traditions and party harmony. He was followed by ex-Gov. Thomas M. Weller of Connecticut, who spoke in a similar strain. Mr. Weller suggested as a solution of the difficulty the election of Senator Hill as temporary chairman and Senator Daniel as permanent chairman. During his speech there was much disorder, the silverists interrupting him at every opportunity with derisive remarks. He reached a climax at one point, and said, "Will you then turn him down?" "We will," answered a chorus of voices. "Very well," he shouted defiantly, "turn him down, and we will fight you here and elsewhere." This was met with a storm of hisses, and one of the silver men shouted, "One vote for McKinley." He finished with an appeal to the majority not to use brute force.

Judge Marston Howled Down.

Mr. Weller was followed by Charles Thomas of Colorado, who spoke in favor of Senator Daniel. Charles Weller of Alabama followed in support of Senator Daniel. Mr. Tarple of California also spoke for Senator Daniel, endeavoring to explain the action of the minority of the committee. Col. Fellows of New York was the next speaker. He made an eloquent appeal for careful consideration of the question. He was listened to by all in silence but without a vote. He said that if no vote was voted down it would be following in the footsteps of republicans. After Col. Fellows sat down Judge Marston of Louisiana appeared. "It is not that we love Hill less but democracy more," he began, and then he said something that offended the audience and it was a long time before he could proceed. While the audience howled he drank water. Three times in a minute he drained full glasses. Wild shrieks of laughter swept across the hall as he took up the glass for the fourth time. The weary audience was relieving its feelings. Chairman Harrity interposed with a warning and endeavored to secure a hearing for the Louisiana man. "Take another drink!" yelled the crowd. "Don't take any more water, a democrat never takes water!" This and other cries rose from all around as he endeavored to speak. After much disorder he yielded and descended from the platform amid derisive cheers.

Debate Closed.

The other speakers were Hon. John W. Duncan of Texas, C. J. Ladd of Illinois and Hon. J. W. St. Clair of West Virginia. They all spoke for the minority report, but each speaker had a word of praise for Senator Hill. Then Chairman Harrity said unless the majority of the convention shall otherwise instruct, the chair will direct a call of the roll immediately after the next speaker had closed. It was for the delegates to decide. This declaration apparently met the unanimous approval of the convention, and the chairman added that recognizing this to be the sentiment of the convention he would again recognize Mr. Clayton of Alabama to close the debate. Mr. Clayton promised at the outset that he would not offend the majority by threats nor amuse others by drinking too much water. This admission to the Louisiana gentleman was received with laughter and having put the delegates in a good humor, Mr. Clayton proceeded to proclaim himself as one friend of David B. Hill now as he had been four years ago, but he said the majority of the democrats were entitled to rule, and that in selecting Senator Daniel for temporary chairman the convention was violating tradition.

The Roll Call.

Chairman Harrity then put the question, which was the adoption of the minority report, and then ordered the roll of states to be called. The roll call was then proceeded with, and proceeded without special incident till Illinois was reached. Then cheers greeted the announcement of 48 votes. When Iowa was reached the vote was announced, 36 yeas, was challenged and a roll call of the delegation demanded. The result was 19 yeas and 17 nays. Chairman Harrity stated that, as the delegation had been instructed to act as a unit, the vote would be recorded as 36 yeas. The vote of Kentucky was also challenged on the ground that the delegation had been instructed to vote as a unit, and the chairman repeated his ruling that under the unit rule the whole delegation must be recorded as 36 yeas.

Hill Did Not Vote.

The chairman of the Michigan delegation announced that a poll of the delegation stood 12 yeas to 14 nays, but under the unit rule he had pleasure in casting the whole 26 votes for David B. Hill. Gov. Flower cast the vote of New York Senator Hill not voting, 71 yeas and 29 nays. Ohio's vote was challenged and the delegation polled. The result gave 35 yeas to Daniel and 5 to Hill, but under the unit rule the entire vote went to Daniel. When Virginia was reached the chairman of the delegation announced amid great cheering that Virginia cast 25 yeas and 10 nays. The New England states and New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania cast solid votes, of course, against the adoption of the report. The total vote was announced by the chair as follows: Yeas (Daniel), 556; nays (Hill), 319. Twelve votes were knocked off from the territories and Senator Hill did not vote.

A Great Demonstration.

The chair added: "The motion offered by the gentleman from Alabama substituting H. J. W. Daniel of Virginia for temporary chairman is adopted," and there was a considerable manifestation of applause. The chair then appointed Senator Jones of Arkansas, Hon. R. P. Keating of Nevada and Senator White of California a committee to escort Senator Daniel to the chair. The greatest demonstration of the day up to this time occurred when Senator Daniel came forward. Delegates stood up in their chairs and yelled with might and main, waving their handkerchiefs and flags. The band aided the enthusiasm by starting up a patriotic air and the delegates stamped, clapped and cheered with a vociferousness that threatened to drown the efforts of the musicians.

Senator Daniel's Remarks.

Mr. Daniel brought down the convention on taking the chairman's gavel by saying no convention had ever been presided over with more dignity and ability and fairness than had been shown by Mr. Harrity, and he only hoped that he might be able to discharge the duties conferred upon him with some approach to that degree of ability. He disclaimed the slightest intention on the part of the convention of casting reflections on the distinguished New York democrat. There was nothing personal in his (Daniel's) selection. He reminded the eastern democrats that the silver men had cheerfully supported Seymour, Tilden, Hancock and twice Grover (Cleveland) and had borne with their compromise platforms and repeated promise of bimetallicism. The force bill, the McKinley bill and the Sherman law were triple products of republicanism aimed at the south and no vote from the east had aided them. The force bill would have been continued if those noble western men, Teller (cheers), Stewart, and Jones of Nevada and Stanford of California had not stood out against it. (Cheers) What hope, he asked, was there for the country or for democracy unless the policy of the majority in the convention was adopted. The republicans, throwing away all disguise, had now adopted the single British monetary gold standard and were prepared to saddle the country with higher taxes and more bonds. True Americanism demands that a determined stand shall be made against this policy.

Immediately the chairman finished there were cries of "Hill" from all parts of the hall, and the sergeant-at-arms was called upon to restore order. A resolution that the rules of the fifty-third congress govern the convention was adopted. On motion of ex-Gov. Hogg of Texas the roll was called to give each state and territory an opportunity to name its selections for the committees on credentials, permanent organization, rules and order of business, and platform. Loud cries for Hill were raised before the question could be put, but the New York senator did not second, and the call proceeded. When the various committees had been appointed, the members of them withdrew for organization, and the convention then, at 4:45 p. m. adjourned until this morning at 12 o'clock.

S. H. WHITE CHOSEN

The Senator from California To Be Permanent Chairman.

HIS SELECTION CAME AS A SURPRISE

Senator Harris' Name Dropped Because It Was Not Considered Desirable To select Both Chairmen from the South.

Chicago, July 8.—When the committee on permanent organization assembled at 5 o'clock last evening the state which it was understood had been prepared was already and was a surprise. Instead of the veteran Isham G. Harris of Tennessee, who has been conceded to be the probable choice, Senator Stephen M. White of California was substituted. The only reason mentioned informally for the change was that the members thought it undesirable to have both the presiding officers from the southern states. George C. Hilbert of Kentucky placed Senator White's name in nomination, and briefly presented his special qualifications for the office. Gordon Wood of New Hampshire moved to make Senator Hill of New York the choice of the committee. A roll call was taken and the vote resulted in the selection of Senator White by 33 to 5. The six states which voted for Senator Hill were Delaware, Massachusetts, Maryland, New Hampshire, Pennsylvania and New Jersey. A significant feature of the meeting was the absence of F. R. Cordier, representing New York, and James Aldis of Connecticut. Four other states and territories were not represented. Hon. W. J. Bryan of Nebraska was in the committee room some time, and there was considerable talk in his absence of making him the permanent presiding officer of the convention. At the suggestion of his friends, however, his name was not presented, for the reason that he might be a candidate for president before the convention.

Thomas J. Cogan of Cincinnati was the choice of the committee for secretary of the convention. This office was supposed to have been picked out for Major Towles, the aged but energetic secretary of the bimetallic committee but he did not muster enough votes at the time when they counted. Sergeant-at-arms Martin was the object of some sharp criticism and an effort was made by half a dozen radical silver members, whose names were withheld, to turn him down and recommend another person for permanent sergeant-at-arms. The six men so voted when the question took the form of a resolution and when they were defeated it was announced that they reserved the right to bring in a minority report recommending the removal of Col. Martin.

PLATFORM COMMITTEE.

Efforts To Have the Financial Plank Considered in Full Committee Failed.

Chicago, July 8.—The resolutions committee began the active work for which it was organized through a motion by Mr. Thomas of Colorado, that a sub-committee of nine be appointed to construct a platform and report to the full committee this morning. Mr. McDermott of New Jersey offered an amendment which provided that this sub-committee be authorized to prepare the entire platform with the exception of the financial plank, and that that be disposed of by the full committee. Mr. McDermott is a sound money man, and in a short but aggressive speech declared that he did not want the financial plank constructed by any sub-committee for the reason that existing conditions demanded as much publicity as possible in the discussion of financial questions. He was vigorous in his protest against what he knew would be the action of the committee and intimated that the democrats of New Jersey and the east could not or would not support a free silver coinage platform. Mr. McDermott's speech was construed by the members of the committee as a threat that he would bolt the silver nominee, and Senator White replied in his accustomed energetic fashion. Further remarks were made by Mr. Harrison of Connecticut in favor of the amendment, and soon the debate gave promise of continuing indefinitely, when the previous question was moved and Mr. Thomas' motion prevailed.

Cholera in Egypt.

Cairo, July 8.—There were seventeen cases of cholera and five deaths from that disease among the Egyptian soldiers yesterday, and four cases among four doctors among the British soldiers. Among the civilians there were three fresh cases and three deaths from cholera yesterday. At Alexandria there were ten cases and five deaths.

A Collision in the Clyde.

Glasgow, July 8.—The Allan line steamer State of Nebraska, from New York on June 25 for this port, refused to lower her helm while ascending the Clyde yesterday afternoon, and ran into the ship Dido at the latter's bow. Both vessels had several persons injured. The Dido is a second class steamer.

DEFEAT OF YALE

They Were Simply Outclassed by the Leander Crew.

ROWED A VERY PLUCKY RACE

Two of the New Haven Men, Brown and Rodgers, Badly Used Up—Dr. McDowell's Easy Victory Over Guinness.

Henley-on-Thames, July 8.—Although the Yale university crew fell by the wayside yesterday in their first and consequent upon their defeat, their only attempt to win the most highly-prized trophy of British aquatic, the Grand Challenge cup of the Royal Henley regatta, they have no reason to feel humiliated over their defeat. Their opponents, the crack eight of the Leander Rowing club, whose crews won the cup four times in succession, in 1891, '92, '93 and '94, were in splendid trim and the race was a good one. The Yale men were simply out-classed. The Leanders beat the New Haven crew by a length and three-quarters, covering the Henley course of one mile and 550 yards in 7:14. Immense crowds of spectators lined the river banks when the signal was given that everything was ready for the third heat of the Grand Challenge cup race between the Yale university and the Leander Rowing club crews. The entire course was a mass of color, Yale and American flags being very much in evidence. There was no wind, the sky was overcast, and the air was hot. "B.B." Cook and Pittman, the old Cambridge stroke, followed the boats over the course in the umpire's launch. The starting word was given at 1:35 p. m. The boats got an excellent start, both striking the water at the same time. Emerging from the upper end of Temple Island Leander was seen to have the fore part of her canvas ahead and soon increased her lead to a quarter of a length, but the Yale men were putting great force into their strokes and succeeded in driving their boat even with that of their opponents. To those running behind the boats on the towpath the Yales seemed to get the nose of their boat in front, and it was then a beautiful race to Fawley Court. A reporter who was on board the umpire's launch says that Yale never actually got the lead, but that two or three times they pulled themselves about even with Leander. The consensus of opinion, however, is that Yale led slightly at the half-mile, but that Leander was a foot ahead at Fawley Court.

Yale Men Completely Spent.

The Leander crew appeared perfectly fresh at the end of the race and rowed a smart stroke some distance beyond the finish, but the Yale men seemed to be completely spent. Brown and Rodgers, respectively Nos. 2 and 4, were very badly done up at the finish. The men were too much exhausted to allow a raise in the stroke. Both Brown and Rodgers required attention when the race was over. When they had been helped out of the boat Rodgers was perfectly white and Brown fainted from exhaustion. Both were very weak and lay in the open air on a float for some time while they were fanned and bathed by their comrades. The men feel that they did themselves justice and acknowledge that Leander is the better crew.

Bob Cook Expected Defeat.

Bob Cook said to a representative of the United Press at the conclusion of the race that the contest had resulted as he thought it would. The Leander crew was composed of older and more experienced men. The Leanders got the best of the start and led for a short time, but the Yale crew caught them and lead by half a length at the Fawley Court boat house. All the Yale men declare that they were fairly beaten.

"Field's" Expert's Account.

Mr. Ellington, the field's rowing expert, who saw the race from a launch, says, "Yale rowed a twenty-two and forty-three stroke for the first half and full minute to Leander's twenty-one to forty-one. Yale, as usual, went off badly, their first four strokes being very scratchy and irregular. The boats were timed at Fawley Court boat house as having covered the course to that point in 3:24. Leander was about a yard in front and then began to gain fast, leading by a quarter of a length at the three-quarter mile post. Yale was beginning to get very short. Leander was clear of Yale at Grosvenor and was rowing well. Yale also preserved her form, rowing at a thirty-eight stroke. At the 1 1/2 mile mark Yale was very much exhausted, and nearly two lengths behind. Leander spurred at the finish. Leander rowed men longer than the Yale men, who just at the finish went all to pieces, but had rowed a fine race all the way."

McDowell's Victory.

The event of the day next in importance to Englishmen as well as Americans to the race between Leander and Yale, was the trial heat for the Diamond Challenge Cup between Dr. W. S. McDowell of Chicago and Hon. E. A. Guinness, an Irish college, brother of the Hon. James Guinness of the Leander club, as holder of the Diamond trophy, has met with a series of mishaps during his practice on the Thames, but he treated the multitude to a surprise yesterday and received an ovation from the crowds that were packed in every available space at the finish line of the course. He rowed beautifully, and actually played with Guinness, winning as he pleased. His time was not extraordinary, in fact it was slow, but it wasn't necessary for him to row at a record breaking pace to take the Hon. Mr. Guinness into camp. He finished in 3:36, three-quarters of a length in front of his opponent.

FOR A NEW ORGANIZATION.

Gold Men To Consider What Action They Should Take for November.

Chicago, July 8.—After a session last night of nearly three hours the gold men who are here under the leadership of Mr. Whitney adopted the following resolution: "That a committee of one or more be appointed from each state to confer with the people and report the temper concerning an organization of the sound money old democracy, and how far such an organization should go in independent action for the election next November."

DEATH OF GEORGE LAW.

A New York City Millionaire with Numerous Eccentricities.

New York, July 8.—George Law, the millionaire president of the Eighth and Ninth avenue railroads, who died yesterday afternoon, was a man with numerous eccentricities and generous to the limit of prodigality towards all with whom he came in contact. It was he who in 1883 set the pugilistic world in a pleasurable excitement by chartering a special train and taking a crowd of prize-fighters and sports to Saratoga. Every one who went was presented with diamond rings and gold watches. At other times he showed his fondness for sport by bestowing jewelry upon leaders of the ring. Joe Coburn, the deceased prize-fighter, earned many a diamond ring by testing Law to knock him down to illustrate how certain blows should be delivered. and Col. Tom Ochiltree, the raconteur of Texas, is the owner of a $8,000 diamond ring which Law gave him. The trip to Saratoga by special train cost Law over $50,000, half of which was spent by the pugilists in trying to beat the tiger.

RELIGIOUS ISSUE.

Indignation and Explanations of the Stories Attacking Mr. Bland.

Chicago, July 8.—One of the "big four" of the Ohio delegation is very indignant at the attempt to make it appear that he started the attack on Mr. Bland because of the latter's religious convictions. He says he was misrepresented in an interview which was printed. "I was asked," said he, "whether I thought the fact that Mr. Bland's wife and son were Catholics would in any degree weaken him as a candidate. I replied emphatically that it was an outrage that a man's religious connections should be talked about. I said that for Mr. Bland personally I had the highest regard, and that no one appreciated more than I his work in behalf of the silver cause. No one has denounced the American Protective association organization more openly on the stump than I. I have no religious prejudices. I was sorry, I said, that the matter was talked about, but I admitted that such prejudices did exist and might weaken his chances of election if nominated. Religious bigotry could not be controlled. In his letter in which he defended his wife's religion he laid down my platform exactly." Mr. Thurman has sent the following dispatch to Mr. Bland at Lebanon, Mo.: "The report that I started an attack upon you on account of your wife's religion is absolutely untrue. What I said was in reply to a question by others, and many things are now put into my mouth which I never thought of, much less said. Your letter when a candidate for congress on the subject expressed precisely, word for word, my sentiments and convictions."

New Trial for Mrs. Thurston.

Binghamton, N. Y., July 8.—Mrs. Rachel Eliza Thurston, who is charged with the murder of her husband, Elmore Thurston, and against whom a verdict of guilty was returned by a jury at a recent term of court held in this city, has been granted a new trial by Judge Forbes.

HOBART NOTIFIED

Officially Informed of His Nomination for the Vice-Presidency.

Petersen, N. J., July 8.—Garret A. Hobart was officially notified yesterday of his nomination to the vice-presidency by the republican national convention. The committee of notification called at his home, headed by Charles W. Fairbanks. Mrs. Fairbanks was the only woman with the committee. The delegates were received in the parlor by Mr. and Mrs. Hobart, and after the speech of Chairman Fairbanks, and appropriate reply by Mr. Hobart, luncheon was served, after which the members of the committee were taken in carriages to places of interest in the city.

At Saratoga on August 25.

New York, July 8.—The New York state republican committee has selected Saratoga as the place for the state convention and August 25 as the date.

DOWNFALL OF GOLD

Silver Men Have a Sure Two-Thirds Majority.

AN INCREASE OVER FIRST TEST VOTE

Will Dictate the Platform and Name the Candidates—The Yellow Metal Advocates Completely Routed and Defeated.

Chicago, July 8.—The silver democrats have captured the convention and gold is defeated. They have routed their opponents by a majority of 207. The result of the vote on the adoption of the minority report naming Senator Daniel for temporary chairman showed the silver men to be 43 votes short of a two-thirds majority, taking it as a test vote. But in many respects it was not so. There were eight votes of South Dakota cast for Hill, which, on a square issue of free coinage will go for silver. Three votes in West Virginia thrown against the silver candidate will be counted for the silver platform, and there are other votes which were given to Hill which they will have with them throughout the balance of the session. If they should still lack a few votes they have Michigan to fall back upon. A decision in favor of silver men in one or two contested districts in that state will convert under the unit rule the 26 gold votes of Michigan into 28 silver votes, and give a sure two-thirds majority for the silver men.

An Interesting Assemblage.

The gathering was a wonderfully interesting assemblage in the gigantic Coliseum—wonderful in point of numbers and interesting with regard to the men who made up the assemblage. The giants of the party were there. There was Jones of Arkansas, difficult to a degree, portly of appearance, but quick in movement; Harris of Tennessee, older and not so erect as his senatorial colleague, sitting up the convention with the keen eye of the practiced presiding officer; Tillman, leading the south Carolina delegation, hardly less noticeable than his older fellow senators, and the young governor of Texas, who also came in for his share of attention. Wm. C. Whitney sauntered into the great hall almost unobserved. He took his seat with the New York delegation, near by to Bissell of Buffalo, who had been President Cleveland's law partner and postmaster-general, and looked over the sea of faces. Hurrying along through the converging crowds of arriving delegates came Russell, the boyish-looking ex-governor of Massachusetts, and with him the other Russell from the Old Bay State, who had been unsuccessful in his endeavor to reach the executive office vacated by his namesake. Gray of Delaware and Vilas of Wisconsin, Mr. Cleveland's most ardent supporters on the floor of the senate; Bradley Smalley of Vermont and others of the gold leaders entered unobserved and took their places quietly.

Hill Heartily Cheered.

When David B. Hill entered the hall many of those who afterwards voted to keep him from the temporary chairmanship, forgot family quarrels and cheered as heartily as the rest. Again and again the enthusiasm broke forth and Hill sank modestly into his chair and looked as though he wished to be out of sight. It was nearly 1 o'clock instead of noon when the convention was called to order and for an hour and a half prior to the time when Chairman Harrity of the national committee tapped his gavel, the floor had been one moving, converging, diverging mass of humanity, principally male, but with a sufficient levelling of women to make it marked.

MICHIGAN SILVER MEN SEATED.

Gold Delegates Turned Down by the Credentials Committee.

Chicago, July 8.—The committee on credentials, at 1 o'clock this morning, by a vote of 27 to 16, recommended the seating of the contesting delegates, four at-large and two in the Fourth and Ninth districts each from the state of Michigan. The unit rule prevails in the Michigan delegation and this action of the committee, if confirmed by the convention, will throw the solid vote of Michigan into the silver column and it gives the silver men the majority of the delegation.

THE DAMAGE GROWS.

Lives Lost in the Storm Near Belvidere, N. J.

Belvidere, N. J., July 8.—As later reports come in from Monday night's storm in this vicinity the damage grows alarmingly, accompanied by loss of life. Ten or twelve public iron bridges were completely destroyed, and William Ketchum, aged 76, a James Living near Karsville, lost his life while attempting to cross a bridge in an effort to rescue his drowning stock. Just over the river from Belvidere George Miller, aged 19, who took shelter under a tree, was instantly killed by lightning. Elisha Woodruff, aged 60, back-smith, and his wife, were assailed with difficulty from the floor, high rushed into their house from the broken dam at Hazen.

GREAT SPRING ROUND-UP.

Exciting Scenes Now Being Enacted on the Ranges in Dakota.

All along the western border the round-up campfires burn brightly now. Far in the west, bounded only by the snow-capped Rockies, hundreds of mess wagons staked camp for the first time recently. The Missouri river marks the eastern border of the great western ranges. In Dakota alone at least 1,500 riders are now engaged in rounding up cattle and branding the calf crop. Twenty-five outfits have planned and laid out their routes, and at least six weeks of continuous riding will be necessary to do the work. Fifty to sixty riders will follow each wagon or outfit.

The outfit consists of the mess-wagon, drawn by four or six horses, loaded down with provisions necessary to feed the crew; the bed-wagon, containing all the bedding and camp equipment; the horse wrangler, who takes charge of the bunch of horses to be used in the work, usually consisting of 200 to 300 horses. These horses are moved with the camp, and whenever a rider wants a fresh horse he throws a rope into the bunch and brings out his animal. Then follows the scene of "bucking" and plunging, for often the broncho has to be "busted" before he can be used on the work. Camp is moved every day, or at least every second day, from five to eight miles along the route. Every morning the line rider foreman leaves camp with his crew of riders and takes a course at right-angles with the route; every half mile or mile he starts a couple of riders to ride parallel with the route, to throw in all the cattle they find toward the route and camp. After five or six lines are started out the foreman takes the balance of the riders and swings around in front to drive all the bunches gathered toward camp, coming in for dinner.

In the afternoon the same course is adopted in the opposite direction, and both sides of the camp are worked. The cattle gathered are all thrown into one bunch, which is known as the "cavy," and are moved along with the camp. Calves are branded each day, and every one is branded the same brand as its mother, no matter where or who the owner may be. This part of the work is done with the greatest care, and every cowboy is faithful to this trust.

Whenever 4,000 or 5,000 cattle are in the "cavy," and while cattle are on their own range, the work of "cutting out" is carried on. In this the peculiar skill and ability of the cowboy is drawn out, and only men of well-known expertness with brands and cattle are detailed to do this work. The cutting horse must learn his part as well as the rider; he must be able to turn about as quickly and on less ground than any other, and dodge the attacks of the wild-est steer with as much ease and grace as the circus horse. The rider dashes into the "cavy" and separates the cattle of each particular brand belonging on the range they are passing over. He drives his animal to the outside of the bunch and dashes back after another. On the outside are a number of riders who drive these cattle off to the owner. Each brand held in this way is driven back on its own ranch, for these range cattle become located. This is called working the cavvy, and the main bunch is pushed ahead until everybody's cattle are cut out and the calves branded.

In this state not less than 400,000 head of cattle will be handled by the present round-up. The country traversed will be upward of 25,000,000 acres, which constitutes the great South Dakota pasture or range country. Each wagon is assigned its particular route, and the entire country is thoroughly worked. The calf crop will be fully 25 per cent. larger than last year.

The cattle industry has developed wonderfully during the past four or five years. Over $1,000,000 worth of cattle are shipped annually from this point. The interest taken in grading up stock cattle and purchasing grade stock increases each year. The industry has paid a yearly profit of not less than 50 per cent. for the past five years, and the loss of the past year was less than 1 per cent. The Missouri River Stockmen's association has headquarters at Fort Pierre. Its duty is to furnish protection to stock from cattle rustlers on the home range and inspection of all brands of cattle sold at the market points. It has a detective service which hunts down every rustler or person unlawfully handling any brands belonging to its members. It has done great good.

The present round-up promises to be the best in the history of our state, as grass is better than it has ever been at this season of the year, and stock are all in splendid condition, and can be moved rapidly.—Minneapolis Journal.

The Only Way.

There had been a lack of men joining the ranks, and the colonel was visiting a recruiting station, inspecting the workings of his recruiting sergeants. Suddenly a terrific noise of shouting and shuffling of feet came through the open window. Now it came from the stairway, intermingled with sundry loud bumps and knocks, and the door burst open, showing a red-faced, perspiring little sergeant pushing, hauling and tugging at a big country lad. The latter was doing his best to escape the firm grip of the soldier. "Halt!" cried the colonel. "How is this, sir?" he said to the sergeant. "Is this the way you secure recruits—by force, sir?" The red-faced sergeant looked up and down, then at the colonel, and blurted out: "Sure, sir, the only way to get them volunteers is by force, sir."—Harper's Round Table.

Mrs. Billus—What are you putting that great padlock on the ice box for? Are you afraid burglars will steal the pound of butter and the quart of skimmed milk inside of it?

FOR SUMMER DECORATION.

A Season of Simplicity and Light in the Home.

Decorations for this summer will be even more simple than before. Gilding and multiplication of ornaments have given place to cooler effects. Friezes, fringes and other trimmings, being voted heavy, have gone out of fashion. Even moldings are left plain and as nearly like the rest of the woodwork as possible. Good harmony in color is obtained at any cost.

French and English wall papers are now in most general use. They come without friezes. This detracts somewhat from the apparent breadth of a room, but is a distinct gain in the matter of brightness. Sprawling, attenuated characterizes the newest papers for halls and bedrooms. Yellow is a favorite color. It appears in roses, with large, straggling leaves. Giant cactus blossoms, poppies and hibiscus are all shown.

For drawing-rooms the effect is exactly reversed. The papering and appointments are of the most dainty description. A beautiful wall is of a green so delicate that it suggests the first upshooting grass of spring or a mat of natural moss about a fountain. Other designs show just a hint of rose color, a wavy light of blue or the faintest possible ecru. Some summer walls are draped with silk, the finest, lightest, most shimmering qualities being used.

Canvas tapestry, which closely resembles coffee-sacking in mesh and color, gives an admirable tone to the cottage library. This tapestry comes in oriental colors and flower designs, some conventional and some like the palm leaves, showing considerable artistic touch. The patterns are large.

A wall paper has recently been brought out which exactly imitates old Dutch tiling in design and appearance. Nothing more appropriate for a dining-room could be invented. Portieres and curtains should be made of blue denim. The blue harmonizes exactly with the delft tiles and plaques. Shields of white bolting cloth may be applied on the denim and embroidered and outlined in blue cotton. The chairs, divans and cushions should be covered plainly with the denim, bound at the edges with blue and white gimp. A mantelpiece in white, with a goodly expanse of mirror, is most effective. Odd-shaped jars of blue and white may ornament the shelves. This combination is singularly cool.

Chamois cloths, which are made of the weight and substance of a skin, make pleasing draperies for summer homes furnished in French style. They are costly, however. For simple country rooms chintz is quite as effective. The designs are novel and beautiful, offering ample variety for selection. Outdoor hangings for yachts or piazzas are made of Cairo lattice nets. These are woven with an open mesh, which permits the air to circulate freely while excluding the light.

The piazza decoration and furnishing should be as carefully considered as those of parlor or bedroom. A piazza without a hammock would be incomplete. If room permits two, or even three, of the lazy nets may be provided. An attempt has been made in the last few years to improve on the hammock by introducing the Indian swing. This hangs from metal chains and has a sofa-like seat. It is not as comfortable as the hammock, but is more manageable. Awnings are almost a fad among summer cottagers. The most popular are those gayest in design. The hideousness of the combined colors seems to matter little. The awning beneath which women appear to best advantage is marked with alternate strips of red and white. This canvas does not give as soft a light, however, as one of blue and white or green and white. One of the most startling awnings shown at Narragansett last year was a yellow, red and green affair. Under its trying shade the most beautiful woman looked hideous.—N. Y. Herald.

The Best Thing in Milk Pails is Pearline. That's the solid truth. You get them cleaner, and with less work and fuss, than with anything else you can use. It saves you so much that it's cheaper than the commonest stuff can be. Proof—the largest dairies and dealers use Pearline.

Some women are afraid of Pearline. They think that where cleaning is made so easy, there must be some harm to the thing washed. But Pearline can't hurt milk pails, anyway. And it can't hurt the finest lace or the softest hands, any more than it hurts milk pails.

Not So with the imitations—the fact that they are imitations or followers proves a lack of something.

With a better understanding of the nature of the disease, which is usually before the patient is brought to the hospital, the physician is able to give more effective treatment. There is comfort in the knowledge that so many forms of disease are due to a simple cause, and that a simple remedy will cure them. It is the only remedy which is so highly effective, and which is so safe, that it is the one remedy which promotes internal cleanliness without debilitating the organs on which it acts. It is therefore all important, in order to get its beneficial effects, to note when you purchase that you have the genuine article, which is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only and sold by all reputable druggists.

If in the enjoyment of good health, and the system is regular, laxatives or other remedies are not needed. If afflicted with any actual disease, one may be recommended to the most skillful physicians, but if in need of a laxative, one should have the best, and with the well-informed everywhere, Syrup of Figs stands highest and is most largely used and gives most general satisfaction.

JOHNSON.

A Quiet Fourth—Late Hay—Millet and Corn Fodder—To Move Its Ice Houses—A Poor Marksman—Condition of Gilbert Stewart.

Correspondent of Argus and Mercury.

—The Fourth passed on very quietly, no special excitement. Old Glory floated from the milk company's pole all day. The small boys who are no longer did their part as usual.

—Many will remember buying this week what usually have in twenty-five to forty hours in other years.

—Millet and fodder corn have been planted in great quantities. Some farmers will almost depend on them for their winter food.

—It is said that the milk company will move its large ice houses to a more desirable location this fall.

—One of the boys working in the confectionery, who lives on the hill, was annoyed by a rat that came out in his yard, so he borrowed a gun of a neighbor, who is a mighty hunter, especially when game squires are to be picked. Seeing a favor and opportunity may be taken deliberately and blown away at the intruding rat. One corner of the house was blown off, but the rat still enjoys excellent health.

—The strawberry crop has been sent to market. It was very good. D. A. Aldrich was the largest shipper.

—I am glad to hear that W. D. Hamer, of the Lower Road, has nearly recovered his usual health.

—Gilbert Stewart, of near Garden Grove, who was badly hurt by having a crow bar dropped upon a scaffold on his barn, penetrate his arm to the depth of six or eight inches, is getting along as well as can be expected, but will be laid up for some time.

—Dig down to the cause of your sickness, if you want to get well and stay well. Most likely it's indigestion. The grating, poisonous, putrid food, that is in the stomach by indigestion, causes headache, nervousness, dizziness, stomachache, constipation, and all the other well-known symptoms of indigestion.

They also cause many other and disorders which are not laid to other causes and hence are not easily cured. But as soon as the poisons are removed, all these symptoms and disorders disappear, because there is nothing left to cause them. Nothing succeeds in this life. Shaker Digestive Food, because it prevents the indigestible food from fermenting in the stomach and helps the stomach to digest its food.

BLAND'S RELIGION.

Wishes He Was Half as Good as His Catholic Wife.

Chicago, July 8.—The following telegram was given out at the Bland headquarters, as having come from Mr. Bland, in response to one from Mr. Thurman of Ohio, in which the latter denied having started a fight against him on the ground that his wife was a Catholic. "Blandism is not the issue. I am a Methodist. Have always been one. Always will be. If I were half as good as my Catholic wife I would not worry about getting into heaven. This is the sentiment I expressed on a previous occasion when my religion was criticised. I stand by it now."

Cleaning a Black Straw Hat.

To clean a black straw hat, brush it thoroughly, then take a small quantity of gum arabic and dissolve it in as much water as will make it of the consistency of cream. It is best to put the gum into cold water the night before you require it. Pour as much of the solution as you think will cover the hat into a saucer, add about half the quantity of good black ink; mix well together with a gum brush. Begin in the center of the crown, work your brush around until you have got the gum brushed in the straw, then draw a piece of thread through the brim and hang up to dry; when quite dry, if a little dull, give it another brush with gum without ink. After it is quite dry turn the hat crown on the table, put inside a slightly damp cloth, get an iron small enough to fit inside, just sufficiently hot not to scorch; work it around until you see the crown is in proper shape. If it is a sailor hat press the brim in the same way. Use the same process for colored hats, only have your gum clear, without the ink.—St. Louis Republic.

YES, THERE ARE OTHERS.

But So Different—It's Proof That Count and That's What Middletown People Want.

There are many of them. Read about them every day. Do you believe all you read? We think not.

Why? Well, perhaps you know different.

Bad back are common.

Kidney complaints are common.

So are Kidney Cures.

But do they cure?

That's the all-important question.

Cham is one thing—proof is another.

Cham means what the mamma-tizers say.

Proof means what the people say.

The people say: Doan's Kidney Pills cure Kidney Ills.

Who are the people?

Why Middletown people—What other endorsement is proof?

Mr. Arthur C. Bowles, No. 2 Harding St., says: "Between two and three years ago I took Ladrillipe. I had quite a time of it and when able to be up and around I found myself suffering from indigestion. It was so bad I could not do any work. For ten days or two weeks at a time the pains would be excruciating. I tried most everything to get relief, medicines, plasters and belts, but all to no purpose. At last I went to J. L. Mills' drug store on North street for a box of Doan's Kidney Pills. I found in them the remedy I was looking for. They did the work thoroughly. I can honestly recommend them."

OMINOUS OUTLOOK FOR FRANCE

Papus, the Celebrated Seer, Makes Some Strange Predictions.

Several so-called prophets have arisen in France during the last few months. Of them hardly one seems to have any real claim to the lofty title of prophet. The young girl who says she is the mouthpiece of the angel, Gabriel, seems to have more claim to the title than any of the others, but even her claims seem very ludicrous in the eyes of those who have given any time to the study of the mysterious art of divination. Such predictions turn with a sigh of relief from the vague predictions of these fortune tellers to the measured words which Papus, probably the ablest living magician and seer in Europe, has just uttered in regard to the future of France.

Papus, remember, is no windbag, but a trained student of occult sciences and an authority on all matters relating to magic and sorcery. Intellectually he is as much above these little prophets of yesterday as Nostradamus is above an itinerant gypsy fortune teller. He predicted the assassination of President Carnot in 1893, a full year before the tragedy took place. Here are his very words, as they were published in the Initiation: "During the fourth month of 1894 the president of the republic will be in danger of death at the hands of an assassin." Now, Carnot was assassinated in June, and as the astrological year begins in March, the prediction was clearly fulfilled.

Papus predicts dire events for the coming year, and insists that they will occur unless ward off by human will power. "Ever since the 15th century," he says, "all the prophecies relating to this period are in harmony on one point—namely, that the year 1896 will be a disastrous one. Philippe Olivier, a monk of Cîteaux, prophesied long ago that in 1896 Paris and other great cities would be destroyed by fire. Now, I do not believe that calamity of this kind will happen, but I am confident that during 1896 the French republic will suffer serious loss in many ways. I see danger of war, and not of war with a foreign country so much as of civil war. The government, too, will have many troubles, and the president will either resign or be dismissed. Incidentally, I may mention that early in 1896 there was a clear foreshadowing of the present Italian troubles in Africa. Personally, I look forward to the coming year with great dread. Either fate or Providence is determined that the republic shall be severely tried, and the danger of a popular uprising and of all the horrors of civil war have never been so great. France, it is true, will pass safely through this crisis, and the anarchist movement which threatens will unquestionably be crushed. But nevertheless the year will long be remembered for its many calamities."

"All that I have spoken of is fore-shadowed, and yet nothing of it may happen. We who read the stars can only foretell the events most likely to occur at any given time. Human will is all powerful, and as the strong will of a man can ward off many a peril in his path, so the will of a strong nation can ward off even the worst catastrophes. The glory of astrology is that it enables us to see the dangers ahead and to guard against them."—N. Y. Herald.

THE CIRCUIT RIDER

Said, "Heat is Life, Cold is Death."

There is no surer way to set up dyspepsia than to drink freely of cold drinks at meals. The natural heat of the stomach is necessary for perfect digestion and any cold substance thrown into it absorbs just so much heat and robs the stomach of its powers. A cup of hot Postum Cereal which has all the nourishment of the grains, will do more to tatten the body and preserve good stomach action than all the drugs in the pharmacopoeia. Coffee and tea disagree with many people, while Postum Cereal agrees with the weakest stomach and can be given freely to the children.

A reliable grocer will never offer a cheap or weak imitation of a genuine original article because he happens to make a little extra profit. But it is well to observe that when genuine Postum Cereal is ordered that you get Postum and not a spurious imitation offered as "just as good."

Heart

Failure.

Often first manifested by extreme general debility, with sudden reactions for the better; a general dying out of the fires of life, that brighten up at intervals, giving hope of returning health, but eventually subside, go out on the spot, and another "dropped dead on the street" is reported. A general collapse of the great vital centres, due to a lack of sufficient nourishment is the cause. In such cases take and live to join the great army who today sing its praise. Dr. P. B. Carpenter, of 430 Friendship St., Providence, says, "I have never seen a case of general debility which Bovinine failed to cure, when taken as I directed." It cures in every instance where mal-nutrition is experienced. It is not a medicine, but a powerful condensed food that makes blood, flesh and bone, and by invigorating the life-generating organs dispels disease.

WEDNESDAY JULY 8, 1896.

It looks like Bland, but it might have been Teller. "For this relief much thanks."

John C. Sheehan, of New York city, has been selected as this State's member of the new national committee.

One woman, from Utah, is a delegate to the Chicago convention, and unless the newspaper pictures do her the grossest injustice, one of her is enough even for this convention.

Senator Jones, of Nevada, who is at Chicago trying to steer the Democratic convention, boasts that he has not joined the Democratic party, but that the Democratic party has joined him on the "vital issues of free silver coinage and protection." And the worst of it is Jones is very near the truth.

One of the New York papers publishes a picture of Senator Daniel and Committee man Okey, of Virginia, consulting with Senators Stewart, Dubois and Mantle as to the policy of the free silverites in the Chicago convention. And yet they call it a Democratic convention.

More interest is taken in this city in the proceedings of the Chicago convention than was taken in those of the Republican convention. The nomination of McKinley at St. Louis was accepted as a foregone conclusion, but every one realizes that the situation at Chicago is full of possibilities for dramatic surprises.

Coal trade journals announce that prices will be again advanced in the latter part of August or early in September, and they advise dealers and large consumers to get in their orders in time to anticipate the advance. The combination seems to have a very tight grip on the coal market, and its purpose seems to be to exact from consumers the very highest prices ever received for coal.

The gold men will not bolt the Chicago convention. A few of them may retire, but no matter what the platform or who the candidate the great majority of the Eastern delegates will remain in their seats and see the thing through. This does not necessarily mean acquiescence in the convention's action, but it does mean retention of control of the party organization in the different States and regularity counts for much in politics. A Tammany delegate tersely summed up the practical politics of the situation. When asked if Tammany would bolt, he said: "What, bolt and let Jimmy O'Brien be the regular organization? No."

The meeting of the Republican State Committee, yesterday, was made interesting by the presentation of a demand from the McKinley League of New York city, for a re-enrollment in that city, so that Republicans might be admitted to membership in the organization, and "the army of Tammany and Democratic leaders who now constitute one of its most potent elements," excluded. With very scant courtesy the committee referred the document to Edward Lauterbach, who, as Chairman of the County Committee, is responsible for the existence and perpetuation of the evils complained of. Apparently, Platt and his followers intend to have harmony by suppressing all "kickers."

WORK OF CREDENTIALS' COMMITTEE

Gold Men Unseated in Michigan and Nebraska and a Two-Third Vote for Silver Secured.

CHICAGO, July 8.—The Committee on Credentials did not adjourn until 1 o'clock, this morning. The South Dakota contest was decided in favor of the sitting delegation. Though notice was given of a contest in Nevada, when that State was called no contestant appeared, and the sitting delegation was awarded seats.

Just before adjournment a motion was entered to reconsider the Michigan case, with a view to referring it to a subcommittee for further examination and report. The committee adjourned to meet in the convention hall at 10 o'clock.

The results accomplished by the committee previous to its action in the South Dakota case, were as follows: 1. Unseated four delegates-at-large and four district delegates in Michigan, and gold men, thus converting the gold majority in that delegation into a silver majority and under the unit rule, making the entire twenty-eight votes of Michigan solid for silver. It unseated the Nebraska gold men and seated the Bryan silver delegates. These changes, if ratified by the convention, as no doubt they will be, it is understood, will give silver men the requisite two-thirds vote.

Credentials' Committee Afraid to Unseat the Gold Men.

THE SILVERITES' PROGRAMME.

Anxious to Rush Through the Work of the Convention and Make a Nomination Today—Ohio's Revolt Against Unseating the Michigan Delegates—The Platform as Drafted by the Sub-Committee—Incidents of To-day's Short Session.

CHICAGO, June 8.—The programme of the silver men is to hold two sessions, and, if possible, make a nomination today. It is not proposed to choke off reasonable debate on the platform, but if Senator Hill and others discuss the financial plank at too great length the previous question may be moved.

The West Virginia delegates have decided to cast their first vote for Blackburn and then change to the candidate having the highest number. The Georgia delegates deny that they are for Teller and have voted to support Bland.

The New York delegation held a conference, this morning, to consider the situation in the light of yesterday's developments and agree on a plan of action. The decision reached was to remain in the convention for the present and abide by the will of the majority so far as today's proceedings are concerned at least. Tammany will also support the nominee of the convention whoever he may be.

Ex-Gov. Flower says there is a strong probability that a new party will be formed and declared that many New York delegates favor a bolt.

THE CONVENTION IN SESSION.

The convention was called to order at 10:57 and opened with prayer by Rev. Mr. Green, an Episcopal clergyman, who prayed that they might be dominated for good and for God, and that what they did might tell in years to come for the benefit of mankind.

Temporary Chairman Daniel said the report of the Committee on Credentials was first in order, but there was no response when the report was called for and an informal recess was taken to allow ex-Gov. Hogg, of Texas, to speak. He pleaded for party unity and warfare against the common enemy, the Republican party, the friend of trusts and syndicates, and the foe of labor and the farmers.

Senator Blackburn was next called on to speak and when he took the platform the Kentucky delegates went wild.

When he had finished there were loud calls for Hill, but he refused to speak.

A motion for half an hour's recess was voted down.

Alfred stood on his chair trying in vain to make himself heard. He asked that Hill be allowed to speak, but Hill was not in the hall, being with the Committee on Credentials.

Ex-Gov. Waller, of Connecticut, said that this is a Democratic convention and that a majority even if two-thirds strong, cannot make the minority accept doctrines that are not Democratic. He said that there had been too much pleading by the gold men and it only made the silver men more radical. Dynamite was the thing to use and the mere knowledge that there is dynamite here made the free silverites ask if it is worth while to disrupt the party.

MICHIGAN CASE STILL UNSETTLED.

The Committee on Credentials made a partial report, in favor of seating the Bryan delegates from Nebraska. The report was adopted amid much confusion and the delegates took their seats at 1:20.

The committee asked for further time in which to consider the Michigan case. It voted, last night, to send the silver contestants, but before adjournment grew shaky about its action and adjourned.

Sales Talk

With Hood's Sarsaparilla, "Sales Talk" and show that this medicine has enjoyed public confidence and patronage to a greater extent than accorded any other proprietary medicine. This is simply because it possesses greater merit and produces greater cures than any other. It is not what we say, but what Hood's Sarsaparilla does, that tells the story. All liver ailments of Hood's Sarsaparilla, like Hood's Kidney Pills, are sold, are honest. The claims made of the public and the fact that it is a medicinal merit, is why it has secured abiding confidence in it, and by

NO REST NO SLEEP DAY OR NIGHT

My hands were completely covered with Eczema, and between my fingers the skin was perfectly raw. I had to sit with both hands held up, and away from the fire. My husband had to dress and undress me like a baby. I tried the best physicians, but their medicines gave me no relief, and drove me almost crazy. I was advised to try CUTICURA. I bought it, and did so, although my husband had to go twenty miles to get them. As soon as he got back, I used the CUTICURA, and in five minutes after the first application I was perfectly cured, and slept soundly all that night. I have since commenced using the CUTICURA. I have not had one case since and I could not bear to get worse. It would put me in a race of hell. I always keep the CUTICURA in my medicine chest now, and recommend them to everybody, because of their wonderful effect. Yours gratefully, AGNES M. HARRIS, 1100, Greenleaf Co., Va. journing with a motion to reconsider its vote pending.

This morning, some of the more conservative silver men have been urging that it would be a bad precedent and would create much bad feeling to unseat the gold delegates, and many silver delegates have declared that they would not vote to adopt such a report if made by the committee.

The Ohio delegation was not only opposed to unseating the Michigan gold men, but was prepared to lead a fight against such action.

Under these circumstances the Committee on Credentials did not dare try to put through its report and therefore resumed consideration of the Michigan case.

As nothing could be done pending the report of the Credentials Committee the convention at 1:35 took a recess until 5 o'clock.

THE PLATFORM.

Its Declaration for Free Silver Coinage. 16 to 1. Is Just as Strong as Words Can Make It—Against McKinleyism and Any Tariff Legislation Until the Money Question is Solved—Other Declarations.

CHICAGO, June 8.—The platform, as reported by the sub-committee to the Committee on Resolutions, reaffirms allegiance to the essential principles of justice and liberty, which the Democratic party has always advocated, and then proceeds:

Recognizing that the money question is paramount to all others at this time, we invite attention to the fact that the federal Constitution names silver and gold together as money metals of the United States, and that the first coinage law passed by Congress made the silver dollar the unit of value and admitted gold to free coinage at the ratio measured by the silver dollar unit.

We declare that the act of 1873 demonetizing silver without the knowledge or approval of the American people has resulted in depreciating gold, and in a corresponding fall in prices of commodities produced by the people, a heavy increase in the burden of taxation and of all debts public and private, the enrichment of the money lending class at home and abroad, the prostration of industry and the impoverishment of the people.

We are unalterably opposed to the single gold standard which has locked fast the prosperity of an industrial people in the paralysis of hard times. Gold monometallism is British policy and its adoption has brought other nations into financial servitude to London. It is not only anti-American, but anti-American, and it can be fastened on the United States only by stifling that indomitable spirit and love of liberty which proclaimed our political independence in 1776 and won it in the War of the Revolution.

We demand free and unlimited coinage of both gold and silver at the present legal ratio of 16 to 1 without waiting for the aid or consent of any other nation.

We demand that the standard silver dollar shall be full legal tender, equally with gold, for all debts private and public, and we favor such legislation as will prevent the demonetization of any kind of legal tender money by private contract.

We are opposed to the policy and practice of surrendering to holders of obligations of the United States the option to—Continued on Page Eight.
